For memorable training events with measurable return...

Call Unique Solutions

If your objectives are clearly defined, then it's easy to measure whether they have been achieved or not – and we like success you can measure. Whether you want to develop teams, run a training roadshow or use business simulations, you could not be in better hands.

All our events are unique.

When you work with us, your organisation will be able to demonstrate:-

- Individual, team and management development
- Effective leadership
- Culture change

Because we design programmes specifically for you, using current thinking and our own experience of what works, our events are successful for all learning styles and all delegates.

Relax – we take care of everything:-

- Training needs analysis
- Objective setting and measurement criteria
- Find the right venue and liaise with them
- Design and deliver interactive sessions, as well as unique business simulations and activities
- Manage delegate booking
- Budget management
- Project-manage the evaluation process
- ...and everything else

Fact 1...

Fewer staff leave

Budgens say our work has increased their sales, reduced waste and reduced staff turnover by 30%

Fact 2...

Projects beat targets

BP say our work directly enabled an oil platform to be commissioned $60M under budget and 6 months early

Fact 3...

Time is saved

Vosper Thomeycroft say our work contributed to reducing shipbuilding times by 15%.

Fact 4...

People add value

Nandos say their Store Manager turnover is below 10% p.a. and that 90% of their recruitment comes from within – as a result of our work.

Royal College of Nursing say: "I'd recommend Unique Solutions to any organisation which is looking for creative ways to enable staff and teams to face the dilemma that change poses to them. It was excellent value for money. I didn't know how you delivered such high quality for the fees involved."

Karen Webb - Eastern Regional Director

Lloyd Masters say: "Unique Solutions create magic by making learning simulations sparkle and delivering real business benefits."

Pete Mason - Senior Consultant

Textron Power say: "Within 48 hours, Unique Solutions were on my doorstep obtaining a background to the project, the culture, current and desired, proposed budget and how the part of the project Unique Solutions would be involved in dovetailed with other internally executed actions."

Jane Corben - Management Development Advisor
